WHAT TO EXPECT

Inspiration

Empowering entertainment from the worlds of music, spoken word and more. Special guests, including thought leaders and key voices on gender equality.

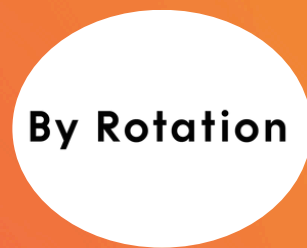

Knowledge

Inspiring stories from our work on the ground at UN Women. Knowledge and ideas to create change in your own community and/or workplace. Networking opportunities with organisations and individuals leading the way in gender equality.

Solidarity

Space to bring your team or community together to reflect, network and be inspired. Delicious food and drink, at a unique venue in the heart of London. Help to fund the future of gender equality (including raffles, auctions and more).

UN Women UK 2024 Awards Host: Christina Macfarlane

HOST

Christina Macfarlane is an Anchor and Correspondent for CNN International, based in the London bureau. She is the co-host of CNN Newsroom with Max Foster and Christina Macfarlane, which airs weekdays at 4am ET.

Prior to this, Macfarlane anchored CNN World Sport for over five years and also served as a Senior Sports Correspondent.

Since joining CNN in 2010, Macfarlane has covered major live sports events, including the 2019 Rugby World Cup in Japan, 2018 Winter Olympics in Pyeongchang and the 2016 Summer Olympics in Rio de Janeiro.

She has reported from all four Grand Slam tournaments, and has interviewed numerous players including: Serena Williams, Novak Djokovic, Rafa Nadal and Andy Murray. In 2019 Macfarlane sat down with Roger Federer for an exclusive interview titled 'Roger Revealed'.

Before becoming CNN sports and news anchor, Macfarlane was a producer for CNN's Living Golf feature show. She has also worked in production on the European and PGA Tour for European Tour Productions and with Sky Sports as part of their live broadcast operation.

Macfarlane made history at the 2019 British Sports Journalism Awards, becoming the first woman ever to be named its Broadcast Journalist of the Year. Her work has also been shortlisted by The Foreign Press Association, and she holds a Master's Degree in Broadcast Journalism from City University London.
